A REMINISCENCE OF THE CHINA WAE -In a speach which was delivered at the East Indin United Service Club by Sir Bartle Frere, at the dinner given to Lord Napier of Magdala, Sir Hone Grant's friends heard with displeasure ertain expressions used, which appeared calculated to strip Sir Hope of his well-carned laurels in China, in order that they might be added to those with which an enthusiastic public is now plorning Lord Napier of Magdala. Major the iou. A. Anson, an officer attached to the personal staff of Sir Hope Grant in India and China, published a temperate and courteous. letter in the Times, pointing out the injustice done by Sir Bartle Frere's expressions to the regulation of his late chief, and next day a rathe ply of the most satisfactory nature appeared in the columns of our contemporary from Lord. Napier himself, stating his entire agreement with Major Anson's views, and admitting that wing: with Major Anson's views, and admitting that Hill. the whole responsibility and success of the ethen, China compaign ought in fairness to be credited

DROUVE DE LHUYS ON ESCLASO. M. Drouyn de Lhuys has been on a visit to the. ship, as Royal Agricultural Show, at Leicester, and from a letter which he has addressed to a friend he appears to have been most favourably impressed with what he has seen of English agriculture. He scatters his compliments, indeed, with all a Frenchman's liberality. He has noticed "the fine appearance of our white and green crops, the beinty of our sheep and horned cattle, and the prodigles wrought by our high farming under so many disadvantages soil and climate," M. Dronyn de Lliuys also finds matter for praise in the social results of rural life in England. He says -"Besides the advantages which merue to the peasantry from a closer contact with the landlords, the constancy with which your aristo cracy has remained attached to its country residences has interwoven its interests with those of the inferior classes, and has proved its greatest strength. The foral spirit pervades the whole national hody, and its healthful in-thence has preserved you from the convulsions which have torn asunder your neighbours."-
